SUPERCHARGER COOLANT TANK, (STOCK BATTERY BOX MOUNT)

This supercharger coolant tank is designed exclusively for DRAG RACE APPLICATIONS where run time is short and no significant heat or pressure is created. The tank's cap is designed large for filling with ice and is not designed to release system pressure, only a vacuum release vent is present. When used in systems with long run times building system pressure will fatigue the tank and may cause seal leakage or failure. If you have a non-drag application please ask about a street version of this supercharger coolant tank.
